New Schöck website now faster and more accessible than ever

As part of the company's 50th Anniversary celebrations, Schöck has completely revamped its online global presence. Clarity and speed of accessibility are the key criteria, with the homepage displaying all main topics as only five menu items. Architects, structural engineers developers, contractors, students and the many other visitors to the site, can access product or company information in no more than three clicks.

The Isokorb® thermal break range remains the major Schöck product focus here in the UK, but the company is also one of Europe's leading suppliers of innovative noise impact suppression and reinforcement technology. All of these solutions feature on the UK site at www.schoeck.co.uk

Inka Lamprecht, Marketing Manager at the European Group headquarters in Baden-Baden comments: "Users can easily identify what is new information on the site and it facilitates easier communication with Schöck contacts as well. In the coming months, we will be adding a number of multimedia elements, such as animated films and videos that show how products are assembled and applied".
